A Flexible Approach

At Pera, we understand the importance of flexibility and offer a wide range of layout options across our facilities, tailored to suit your individual needs.

First Class Catering

We believe that attention to detail is paramount, and can be the difference between a good and a great event. With this in mind, we have developed a range of menus, and offer a complete catering solution that we will manage on your behalf.

We also specialise in showcasing local cuisine, and have developed specific menus that highlight produce from the six counties of the East Midlands. We will, of course, also endeavour to cater for any special requirements you or your delegates may have.

Professional Event Management

If you are looking for more than just a venue, Pera can also project manage your event from concept through design, literature production, marketing to ultimate delivery.

Our team will work with you to develop the concept and theme for your event, provide promotional literature and utilise our extensive marketing database to manage direct marketing campaigns and attract both delegates and exhibitors. We can also support the success of events by using our extensive contacts in industry to identify and secure high-level speakers.

On the day itself, we will of course also undertake delegate management from registration, to the floor management of the event itself. Why not take the hassle out of your next event and ask the Pera team to support you?
